Executive summary

This Engagement Report has been compiled following the conclusion of the first phase of community engagement for the Skidders Adventure Playground Stage 1 Upgrade (10 October - 22 November 2022). The engagement included face-to-face consultation with the playground users, supervising staff, and online consultation with interested community members.

During the engagement period, children who use the playground had the opportunity to provide their feedback on different a variety of play-styles. They were shown a number of different images and were able to vote on their preferred play-styles and elements and provided comments directly on the images. In addition to feedback from the playground users, twelve (12) responses were received from members of the community through the City's online engagement platform - Have Your Say Port Phillip. Respondents provided their ideas of what they would like to see at Skidders Adventure Playground in the future. A local preschool who regularly attend Skidders was invited to contribute to the face-to-face engagement, however they cancelled their visit during the engagement period, and did not contribute.

The information received during the engagement period will be used to develop a concept plan for the new play equipment. The concept plan will be circulated in the second phase of engagement, with Skidders Adventure Playground users, supervision staff and the local community to provide feedback, and to confirm the final plan.

Every effort has been made by the authors of this document to represent accurately participant feedback and insights.

Project background

Adventure Playgrounds:

Two Adventure Playgrounds are located within the City of Port Phillip, Skidders Adventure Playground, South Melbourne, and the St Kilda Adventure Playground. They are special purpose, staffed facilities that have restricted opening hours and have been designed as big 'backyards' for the local children in public housing. For many families, the playgrounds are more than just a 'backyard'. While primarily an exciting place to play, adventure playgrounds are a place where vulnerable families can access service information and referral to a broader wellbeing support network within the community. Adventure playgrounds are unique environments that provide a recreation space for children to explore, use their imagination, and play in a space that encourages risk taking within safe boundaries.

Adventure playgrounds differ from public playgrounds for the following reasons:

- They are only open at certain times.
- Children are supervised at all times the playground is open.
- Generally, there is less emphasis on the provision of manufactured play equipment.
- There is a greater emphasis on creative, social, and cognitive play types. This could be through unstructured experimental play or through the delivery of structured activities.
- Activities with greater elements of risk are acceptable and encouraged within the boundaries of a safe community space.
- They provide an increased level of engagement with the community and family.
- They are often referred to as communal backyards.
- They often have a haphazard, uncoordinated appearance.
- Adventure Playgrounds often incorporate nature, water features, community buildings and informal landscapes.

Skidders Adventure Playground:

The City of Port Phillip has managed Skidders Adventure Playground from 1981 and has fully funded the operations of the site since federal funding ceased in 2014. The vast majority of the play equipment at Skidders had been built by adventure playground staff, volunteers and community groups over the past decades, with the majority of materials being donated from hard rubbish, construction sites and community groups. In a changing risk environment, much of the equipment no longer aligns with Council's risk mitigation process, due to the lack of structural information, compliance documentation and adherence to the relevant Australian standards.

In November 2021, Council engaged an independent OH&S consultant to undertake a comprehensive audit of the compliance and associated risk related to the play equipment and operational procedures at the site. A carpentry contractor was also engaged to undertake a review of the existing play equipment focusing on the structural integrity, to provide recommendations for remediation and/or removal. Upon completion of the reports any equipment that was identified as unsafe and at the end of its life was removed from the site in mid-2022.

Council has committed to a complete upgrade of the site in the 10-year financial plan. To ensure the continuation of play services at the site and to increase the safety and compliance of equipment, Council will undertake 'Stage 1' works while a long-term Adventure Playground strategy is undertaken. The Stage 1 works are aimed at ensuring that the site is usable in the short-term and replacing the play equipment that was removed at the Moray Street end of the site. Wherever possible, works implemented as part of Stage 1 should be re-used and/or incorporated into the future complete site upgrade.

Adventure Playground Vision and Design Principles:

As part of Council's commitment to Adventure Playgrounds, a specific Vision and Design Principles have been adopted, and must be considered for this project:

VISION

Adventure Playgrounds provide safe and welcoming spaces that honour diversity, build resilience and creativity, provide social connections, and encourage all children and families to maximise their development outcomes

DESIGN PRINCIPLES

- Facilitate risky (but safe play)
- Be accessible, safe, and welcoming for all; meeting DDA and CPTED best practice
- Provide connection with nature and the natural environment
- Place children and young people at the heart of design
- Provide a unique aesthetic that recognises the past and is delivered for the future.

Engagement approach

- Playground users were asked to provide feedback via:
 - Morning and afternoon face-to-face engagement sessions held over a two-week period at Skinners Adventure Playground, which were facilitated by the supervising staff.
- Playground supervising staff were asked to provide feedback via:
 - One face-to-face engagement session with the Project Manager; and
 - An email to their Coordinator.
- Community stakeholders were asked to provide feedback via:
 - Morning and afternoon face-to-face engagement sessions at Skinners Adventure Playground run by the supervising staff;
 - Council's 'Have Your Say' webpage - survey and questions; and
 - Council's social media pages - Facebook and Instagram.

Stakeholders were informed about the engagement in the following way:

- Signage displayed at Skinners Adventure Playground;
- Email notification to followers of the previous Adventure Playground projects on Council's Have Your Say webpage;
- Personalised email from the Executive Manager Family, Youth & Children and Divisional Performance to key stakeholders, advising them of the consultation and inviting and encouraging them to participate; and
- Social media posts on Council's Facebook and Instagram pages.

Engagement findings

Face-to-face engagement (playground users):

The children who use the playground had the opportunity to provide their feedback on a variety of different play-styles at nine (9) face-to-face engagement session facilitated by the supervising staff over a two-week period from 10 October to 23 October. Approximately sixty (60) children were involved in the engagement sessions.

The children were shown a number of different images for a range of play-styles and provided feedback on their preferred play-styles and elements. All responses from the face-to-face engagement sessions are shown in the table below, ranked in order of most popular to least popular:

Face-to-face engagement and email correspondence (Supervising staff):

After facilitating the consultation sessions with the playground users, and reviewing the draft version of this report, the Skidders Adventure Playground supervising staff had the opportunity to provide their feedback via email, and at a face-to-face engagement session on 22 November 2022.

Feedback at the face-to-face session was provided from three (3) supervising staff members, and email feedback was received from one (1) additional staff member.

The main themes that arose from their feedback were:

- Equipment colours, materials and shapes
- Opportunities for art/personalisation of the equipment
- Number of equipment pieces and mix of spaces
- User age range
- Shade and water
- Other play equipment to be considered

Specific comments about the equipment or use of the playground included:

Theme	Feedback
Equipment colours, materials and shapes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Like that the equipment will be made from treated timber and that it will be Australian made. • It would be great to be able to incorporate colour into the equipment - the staff and children would like to have input into the colours • Use different shapes of equipment i.e., spheres, pyramids, cubes etc. Three items of different shapes were suggested. • I would love to see more areas for climbing using the natural surroundings (climbing rope on trees) etc. • Wooden fort / cubby structure with lots of different elements on it, such as slides, swings, flying fox, moving bridges, climbing wall and a maze • Creative, man-made, reflect St Kilda, different, quirky, fun, sustainability, reference to its history, recycled wood, colourful

Opportunities for art/personalisation of the equipment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Most of the options looked like equipment that you can find in any other playground • It would be great to have opportunities to incorporate art to personalise
Number of equipment pieces and mix of spaces	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It would be good to have one big piece of equipment and some smaller equipment pieces so smaller groups can play away from the larger unit • A large basket swing or hammock swing would be useful for calming a child who might need some time alone • Having a combination of play and chillout spaces • Need to have the equipment targeted at the core user group; 5- to 12-year-olds as opposed to catering for much younger children • I would love to have a sensory chill out area, an area that was multi-tactile with the objective to calm children that are over regulated
Shade and water	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A water play element would be good as it was something the children enjoyed at Skidders when the ponds existed • A water play area is a great idea for summer • Shaded spaces would be good to enable play all year round
Other things to be considered	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Flying fox activity incorporated into the activity – a short distance, not too high off the ground. • An open space for sport – football/soccer goal posts etc. Some children are more sport oriented and would rather kick a ball around than play on equipment • Not really interested in garden beds as they already exist, and the children aren't really interested in gardening • Sheltered chill out area for parents to sit and chat • Play equipment at the following playgrounds: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Play equipment at Northcote Arts school (High Street) ○ Fitzroy towers playground ○ Alma Park slug ○ MpPA: Museum of Play and Art

Appendix 1 - Feedback received via Have Your Say:

Response	Comment	Connection to the playground	Age group
1.	Swinging, sliding, climbing, cubbies and the trampoline are favourite things to do in a playground.	Visits a few times a year	Under 10
2.	Better play equipment, but please keep the trees / natural setting.	Visits a few times a year	25 to 34 years

3.	Ongoing opportunity for kids to take calculated risks in a creative and adventurous space	Visits every few months	35 to 49 years
4.	Workers on-site, ongoing programs. For Skidders to retain its 'Personality' for future generations. New installations with the creativity and recycled nature of the existing equipment and the return of resources like tires & planks for kids to explore build and create themselves. Risk taking play!	Visits a few times a week	35 to 49 years
5.	I have a toddler daughter and we live across the street. I love Skidders and hope the staffed hours will continue, perhaps with even more reliability (sometimes when I think the playground will be open it is closed and I'm not sure why.).	Visits a few times a week	35 to 49 years
6.	Safer adventure and nature play equipment. It's a great playground but needs to be more inviting, with separate areas for little kids and big kids.	Visits a few times a year	35 to 49 years
7.	I am concerned about safety, criminality, drug dealing, and the proximity to the walk-up flats windows, as well as the close proximity to brothels on the street: how can this all be made safe and open to the best standard in Australia? This is what the kids and families need.	Lives nearby but doesn't visit	50 to 59 years
8.	I would like this playground to be wonderful and a completely safe place for children and families...I am very concerned about the drug dealing and criminal activity, which is constant threat to everyone's safety here, including children, and needs to be addressed.	Lives nearby but doesn't visit	50 to 59 years
9.	I would like to see a chubby house and a swing set for the young ones to play on	Visits daily	35 to 49 years
10.	A different and more adventurous experience to the usual "cookie-cutter" style playgrounds, and one that incorporates copious large canopy trees and plants to give a more natural bush-like environment. Materials should be natural and organic, rather than plastic. Staff presence is a must for safety.	Visits a few times a year	60 to 69 years

11.	A place for families to gather with picnic tables, BBQ, toilet facilities and an area for teenagers	Don't visit the playground	50 to 59 years
12.	Keep the adventure side of the playground. My son absolutely loved to see how the playground was built using "every day" objects like the tunnel made of wheelie bins. Also loved the trampolines. There was no other playground that had them and we simply don't have the space to have one at home.	Was a regular visitor but their child has outgrown the equipment	50 to 59 years
